STEFAN BOMHARD, GROUP CEO OF INCHCAPE PLC, COMMENTED

"Our revenue performance over the third quarter has been stable on the prior year, with trends consistent with our comments throughout the year. Margin pressure in our Retail businesses also persisted.

Distribution, which comprised around 90% of our profitability in the first half, performed as we expected over the period. We are particularly pleased with our strength in South America over the quarter, and our profit performance and market share gains in Asia. Distribution is core to Inchcape, and we believe this higher return and cash generative business model will drive future growth opportunities for the Group.

In Retail, the easing of margin pressure in the UK and Australia has been slower than we had anticipated. Market dynamics remained similar to those seen in the first half and we were also impacted in the UK by the Worldwide Harmonised Light Vehicle Testing Procedure (WLTP). Pleasingly, our Ignite initiatives in Russia drove a stronger than expected performance.

Our Ignite strategy continues to optimise the business, with Aftersales revenue growth outperformance in most regions. Further, our Used car programme continues to roll out in several markets including Russia and South America and we continue to target Finance and Insurance sales and procurement opportunities, globally."

OUTLOOK

Given trading over the quarter we now expect a resilient constant currency profit performance for 2018. We anticipate some easing of the current market pressures in 2019, although current spot rates suggest that there will be a transactional currency headwind in Australasia over the year.

We remain confident and excited about the medium-term growth prospects for the business. We have a multi-layered growth story, with our highly cash generative and attractive Distribution business at its core. We believe our Ignite business optimisation initiatives, our selective focus on distribution M&A opportunities, and plans to capitalise on future industry trends, position us to deliver growth for our shareholders through organic progress, industry consolidation and cash returns.
